Independent Argument Essay

Topic Choice 1:

With 30 teams across the country (and one in Canada), the NBA is one of the most popular sports in America. Every year NBA fans look to crown one player as the league's "best" player. LeBron James and Stephen Curry are two current players vying for that title. Write an argumentative essay in which you identify which man is the best current player; support your reasoning with evidence from the text.

Materials: Two PDF documents ("Curry" and "LeBron Article")

Topic Choice 2:

American students have grown accustomed to a traditional school year built around the days when children's help was needed to harvest summer crops. Does the September to May school year still work for today's students? Write an argumentative essay in which you make a claim and support your opinion with evidence from the text.

Materials: One PDF document ("School Schedule Debate")
